

Tribute to ABBA

NT BUZZ

Music enthusiasts had an enjoyable evening at the Dr Shyama Prasad Mukhejee Stadium for 'The Show - A Tribute to Abba'. Purplive a property of Alica Purple Avenues hosted their maiden show in Goa featuring Swedish 'Waterloo' along with members of the National Symphony Orchestra from London.

The opening act of the evening showcased The Syndicate playing popular hits along with a mix of Goan music.

The singers who perform and dress like the original Abba performed popular hits - I Do I Do I Do, Mama Mia, Thank You for the Music, Waterloo and Chiquitita.

A special children's choir wearing T-Shirts saying 'Goa Smiles with Me' added nostalgia to the evening as they sang 'I had a dream'. The proceeds of the show were in aid of Purple Care which works for children.

Eka Meka Pasot

Another top notch entertainer, 'Eka Meka Pasot' is the latest non-stop show from Comedian Agostinho. The tiatr has a fine mixture of tragedy and comedy, while entertaining throughout.

The story has Claudia and Sanjeev who are married and have a grown-up son, Benoy. The couple love each other and treasured their son. Armando is the local money lender who is greedy, cruel and without any sense of right and wrong. His son Rodney is in the seminary and daughter Alice is a person who loves and helps others. Armando believes that his children have become like their departed mother and regrets for they are nothing like him. There are other important characters like Indira, Tadeu, Camron and Brownie. Benoy promises joy and happiness to his parents, falls in love with Alice and warns her that his parents have to be treated with love and respect. The two get married and Alice stays true to her promise. But fate strikes a blow and the story continues on stage in this production of selfless love and how evil begets evil. This tiatr is another fine non-stop script from Agostinho that is directed in style. It has a different story with different characterisation. The opening act of mother, father and son and that of the drunken person praying at the Holy Cross is a treat. Besides this, the fine music, the 'cantos', light effects and the rocking comedy make this tiatr one of the best entertainer this season. Dolla is aptly cast as Claudia, the soft spoken, loving and caring mother. She is superb in every act. So is Cia as Alice. The new actor acts and carries herself well and is sure to be an asset to the Konkani stage. Pascoal does a fine job as the husband, Pradeep Naik is superbly different, soft spoken but evil and heartless as Armando while Willie acts well as the superficial Benoy. Filipe is Rodney, the good son who tries to change and challenge his father. Benny plays the parish priest. The comedy is a laugh riot. Janet is Indira, wife of Tadeu played in style by Jaju. Selvy is Brownie, busy advising everyone around him and Agostinho is Camron, who is in need of a plastic surgery. The four create a laugh riot. The band is a treat, Aidan on trumpet, Minguel on saxophone, Jack Rebellu great on drums, Casmiro on the punchy bass and a beautiful background on the keyboard by Wilbur. Benny renders the opening song and Janet-Selvy-Agostinho performs the quasi political comedy trio. The entire non-stop show is an entertainer.

Taverna Panjim opens in Campal

NT BUZZ

To revive the essence of the traditional Goan bar, the Good Life Group has launched the Taverna Panjim, opposite the Panaji Gymkhana, Campal. While taverns which are fondly referred to as gaadhios in Goa are on the decline, Taverna Panjim offers a refreshing lifeline to this integral part of Goan society. With its carefully curated décor, Goan cuisine and musical entertainment, Taverna Panjim aims to create a lively ambience.
